Sign Up for the Ultimate Fishing Show

The Ultimate Fishing Show is scheduled Jan. 13-16, 2011 at the Rock Financial Center in Novi. The Club will, again, have a booth at the Show. We will need, up to, 6 members, per shift, to staff the booth to take care of all the activities.

Show admission this year is $10, save $$$$ by volunteering 4 hours of your time at the Club booth. Duties at our booth include: handing out Newspapers, helping kids design crawler harnesses, selling raffle tickets, coat check, membership desk and just talking fishing with people passing by.

There are two shifts each day of the Show. Pick early or late shifts. Sign up, see the Show, save $10 and help your club make friends. Call Tom Brown at 734-289-3326 or see them at a meeting.

2011 MUCC Camp

It is again time to submit names for MUCC Camp. Children and Grandchildren of club members are eligible to attend Camp with Club financial support.

Names of candidates must be submitted before the January Board of Directors Meeting. The number of children to be sponsored and the amount of support available from the Club will be determined at that time.

Any member who desires their youngster(s) attend camp next summer please submit children's names to any Director before January.

Christmas Party

Our Christmas Party this year will be held Thursday, December 9th. Dinner will be served at 7:00pm. Santa plans to visit us shortly after dinner.

The Club will provide the main course of chicken and meatballs, potatoes, green beans, and bread. Those attending are asked to bring a side dish or desert to share, salads, green bean casserole, baked beans, deviled eggs, cakes, brownies, cookies all work. Dishes that serve 6 to 8 are ideal.

The Christmas party will be held at the Germania Hall, 23156 King Rd., Brownstown, Michigan, see map on page 7.

Looking forward to seeing everyone there, this is a great party with great food and an enjoyable evening for all young and old!

President's Report

Are you ready for the Christmas Party? The raffle tickets are going good. I've sold as many as last year and Todd Robbins ten books and he called or thirty more books. I hope everybody has had the same good luck. If you forgot to send a child's name in for Santa, call Rich Montre and he might still be able to contact Santa. We'll have chicken, meatballs, little round potatoes, and green beans. The ladies always have salads, desserts, and other great dishes for a Christmas feast. Don't miss this one.

We could still use more booze donations.

At our September MSSFA Board meeting Andy Pelt's contract was terminated. We have a new Executive Director and Ad Solicitor. Our Vice President, Dennis Eade, has resigned his office and assumed both positions and has started off with a bang.

At the October MSSFA board-meeting officers were elected for two-year turns – Rick Balabon was reelected president, Ken Merckel vice president. And Gerry Sickon was reelected secretary-treasurer, Dennis Eade reported that the word from the Lake Michigan Task Force meeting was that the five limit on salmon will remain, however no decision was made on lake trout as to season dates, size limits, or bag limit.

This May we are to have another Meet your legislator night. Some from our chapter will be going – if you would like to attend this event, contact me.

On Tuesday November 9th I went with Billie Jo to Wolf Lake Hatchery to pickup the salmon eggs for her school in Trenton. The tank was already at the required temperature and it was fun watching the kids scoop these eggs up, count them and then deposit them in the tank.

The eggs and the food are furnished by the DNRE and we furnish and maintain the tank and chiller. Last year most of the kids and many parents were at the Huron River where each child deposited fish into the river.

Since we always have members of our board absent from meetings, Pat Stevens was appointed alternate director and approved by the board.

From the Editor and Tournament Director,

Just a few notes on this month's Newsletter; the Captain's points for 2010 are final and listed on page 12 as are the Big Fish Awards for 2010 which can be found on the same page. For those who want to know what species the "Big Salmon/Trout Other" was, caught by Matt Headley, records show it was a Skamania caught at our Benton Harbor Tournament.

On page 8 the Master Fisherman's Points have been updated with all of the 2010 tournaments included in the point totals. They should be all correct but check them out, if you find anything questionable please contact me, preferably after 2:00 PM, to resolve any issues.

Our Christmas party is just a few days away; the vast majority of those reading this already know this is one Club meeting/party not to be missed.

For the newer members that may not have attended a Club Christmas Party, just want to let you know this is one Club meeting/party not to be missed!

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all from Nancy and myself.

State Museum Enters Invasives Fight With 'Biopesticides'

From the Adirondack Almanack

The New York State Museum has received a $1 million federal grant to conduct a new research project aimed at protecting endangered species of native freshwater mussels from the impacts of invasive zebra mussels.

With the grant from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), through its Great Lakes Restoration Initiative, Museum scientists will use what they are calling an "environmentally safe invention – a biopesticide" to continue their research with a new emphasis on open water applications. The project will be led by Museum research scientists Daniel Molloy and Denise Mayer.

The Museum will collaborate with two federal institutions along the Mississippi River – the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Genoa National Fish Hatchery and the U.S. Geological Survey's Upper Midwest Environmental Services Center – to develop protocols to protect native freshwater mussels, many of which have been listed as threatened or endangered species, often due to the lethal impacts caused by zebra mussels covering their shells.

The EPA grant will allow Museum scientists to pursue a new aspect of the use of this biopesticide by exploring its effectiveness in lakes and rivers as a way to protect native freshwater mussels from the lethal fouling of zebra mussels and their close relatives, quagga mussels. They will also examine the impact of the biopesticide on the species of fish and native mussels that could be present in a river or lake when the product is applied to open waters. This environmental safety information is expected to allow fishery and native mussel conservationists to select the most appropriate treatment regimes for their needs to help reduce the impacts of zebra mussels.

"This is an exciting research opportunity since we'll be developing real protocols using a technology that was invented here at the Museum to help protect native freshwater mussels -- some of the most imperiled aquatic animals in North America," said Mayer, the scientist who will manage the project.

Mayer and Molloy's prior research focused on finding a remedy for the clogging of pipe systems by zebra mussels and quagga mussels in industrial systems, such as power plants that use water for energy production or cooling. This results in billions of dollars in economic damage due to lost production and costs for remediation. The chemical treatment of these industrial pipe systems to reduce these mussel infestations risks polluting lakes and rivers. Scientists at the Museum's Field Research Laboratory in Cambridge, led by Dr. Molloy, sought to discover an environmentally safe control method, and screened over 700 bacteria before identifying a strain of the common bacterium Pseudomonas fluorescens as being lethal to these mussels when ingested.

Museum scientists also discovered that dead cells of this strain were equally as lethal as live cells, providing clear evidence that the mussels died from a natural toxin in the cells, not from infection. This is very significant because it means that future commercial formulations will contain dead cells, thus further reducing environmental concerns. Testing at the Cambridge laboratory also revealed the extraordinary selectivity of the bacteria in killing zebra and quagga mussels without killing other aquatic organisms, including fish and other species of freshwater clams and mussels. Marrone Bio Innovations of Davis, CA is expected to make the Pseudomonas fluorescens product commercially available in 2011 following biopesticide registration by the EPA.

Donations Needed!!!

At each of the 3 big fishing shows that the Club participates in each winter, we have been getting kids to design their own Crawler Harness. Tom Cunningham and other volunteers tie on the hooks, the kids pick out a blade and some beads and string them on, it is placed in a plastic bag, and WOW, they are THRILLED with their own, personally designed Crawler Harness. This is great PR for the Club and has led to many ticket sales and some memberships. Unfortunately, this is getting quite expensive. SO, if you have any lure tape (any size, any color), beads, blades, clevises, etc. that we could use PLEASE bring them to the next Club meeting and give them to Tom Cunningham or me. We would certainly appreciate ANY donations. (We will also need help tying on the hooks next fall.).

Thanks

Why Parents Drink

it's not only the passion...Dad she's pregnant.

A father passing by his son's bedroom was astonished to see that his bed was nicely made and everything was picked up. Then he saw an Envelope, propped up prominently on the pillow that was addressed to 'Dad.'

Stacy said that we will be very happy. She owns a trailer in the woods and has a stack of firewood for the whole winter. We share a dream of having many more children.

With the worst premonition he opened the envelope with trembling hands and read the letter.

Stacy has opened my eyes to the fact that marijuana doesn't really hurt anyone. We'll be growing it for ourselves and trading it with the other people that live nearby for cocaine and ecstasy.

Dear Dad:

It is with great regret and sorrow that I'm writing you. I had to elope with my new girlfriend because I wanted to avoid a scene with Mom and you.

In the meantime we will pray that science will find a cure for AIDS so Stacy can get better. She deserves it.

I have been finding real passion with Stacy and she is so nice. But I knew you would not approve of her because of all her piercing, tattoos, tight motorcycle clothes and the fact that she is much older than I am. But Don't worry Dad. I'm 15 and I know how to take care of myself.

Someday I'm sure that we will be back to visit so that you can get to know your grandchildren.

Love, Your Son John

P.S. Dad, none of the above is true. I'm over at Tommy's house. I just wanted to remind you that there are worse things in life than a lousy Report card, That's in my desk drawer. love you.

Call me when it's safe to come home.
